Points to Note:

Puppies learn best up to about 16 weeks of age – we therefore need to expose them to as many new things as possible during this time!

Make each new thing a positive experience for your pup – lots of yummy treats and praise make that bicycle a normal part of life!

Remember that before your pup is fully vaccinated it is important to keep them away from close contact with unknown dogs, and not to put them on the ground in unknown places.

If you don't have access to some of the noises don't panic – you can download many sounds now and play them in the comfort of your own living room or whilst your out on your walk.

Try and check off a few new things each week, as well as repeating some of the experiences already done.

Every home is different – some of these items may not relate to your current situation and there may be others that are missing. Aim to find the things your puppy will see daily and check those off first!
